The role

The Research on Improving Systems of Education (RISE) program is a multi-country research program generating evidence on how systems of education in developing countries can deliver learning for all. As RISE begins its fourth-year it is entering its “impact” phase: turning its attention to applying the findings of RISE research to policy debates in global education. Success in this new phase of the project will rely on maintaining the highest levels of rigor in RISE research while at the same time expanding the community of researchers and development practitioners who are engaging with RISE. The new Partnerships Coordinator will have a critical role to play in achieving both objectives.

RISE is seeking a development professional with experience and interests at the intersection of development research and policy to join our team as the Partnerships Coordinator. The Coordinator’s role will be to facilitate collaboration across researchers in RISE’s expansive network, build relationships with external researchers and development practitioners to RISE to expand the reach of RISE’s work, identify and act on opportunities for RISE work to influence policy debates, and work closely with the RISE team to identify and fill gaps in RISE research agenda.
Responsibilities

- Design and implement a new RISE fellowship program (a non-resident affiliation). Including designing operational process for the program and recruiting potential fellows.
- Design and implement other programs that expand the RISE network and engagement with scholars from US, European, middle income, and developing country institutions.
- Work closely with other members of the Research Directorate to lead RISE’s engagement with the policy and development practitioner communities in global education.
- Develop and execute innovative programs to share the findings of RISE research with practitioners, and create opportunities for RISE researchers to learn from activities of practitioners.
- Lead RISE’s engagement with external academic community.
- Lead RISE’s efforts to solicit proposals and commission research papers to supplement existing research activities.
- Independently manage relationships with a variety of stakeholders on behalf of RISE.
- Engage in related policy outreach activities and representation of RISE in public events including: speaking engagements, blogging, and interacting at a high level with key individuals and groups in the practitioner, policy, and academic communities. Represent RISE at a range of external events and meetings in both policy and academic settings.
- Engage with RISE Country Research Teams and Political Economy Teams, understand their research agendas, and facilitate collaborative relationships and constructive feedback on their work by others in the RISE network. Serve as a point of connection between the research directorate and researchers in the RISE network.
- Oversee the review of RISE publications, ensuring that all publications benefit from collegiate feedback and input from experts across the RISE network.

Selection criteria

- Master’s degree in relevant field (economics, public policy, international development, education, or another related field) plus significant professional experience; or PhD plus substantial professional experience.
- Significant work experience international development and global education, with an emphasis on academic research. Familiarity with issues in global education policy. Familiarity with RISE research and members of the RISE community a plus.
- Demonstrated disciplinary research skills in economics, political science, public policy, sociology, anthropology, or a related field.
- Demonstrated success navigating complex policy and stakeholder environments.
- Demonstrated ability to take independent initiative, multi-task, and work as a member of multiple teams.
- Outstanding organizational skills and the ability to work well in a fast-paced environment.
• A demonstrable ability to communicate professionally, confidentially, tactfully and effectively to a high standard in writing as well as orally.
• Demonstrable experience of successful team working and leadership skills
• Exceptional relationship and networking judgement.
• Desire to improve lives around the world through effective public policy.

About the University of Oxford

Welcome to the University of Oxford. We aim to lead the world in research and education for the benefit of society both in the UK and globally. Oxford’s researchers engage with academic, commercial and cultural partners across the world to stimulate high-quality research and enable innovation through a broad range of social, policy and economic impacts.

We believe our strengths lie both in empowering individuals and teams to address fundamental questions of global significance, while providing all our staff with a welcoming and inclusive workplace that enables everyone to develop and do their best work. Recognising that diversity is our strength, vital for innovation and creativity, we aspire to build a truly diverse community which values and respects every individual’s unique contribution.

While we have long traditions of scholarship, we are also forward-looking, creative and cutting-edge. Oxford is one of Europe’s most entrepreneurial universities. Income from external research contracts in 2016/17 exceeded £564m and we rank first in the UK for university spin-outs, with more than 130 companies created to date. We are also recognised as leaders in support for social enterprise.

Join us and you will find a unique, democratic and international community, a great range of staff benefits and access to a vibrant array of cultural activities in the beautiful city of Oxford.

How to apply
Before submitting an application, you may find it helpful to read the ‘Tips on applying for a job at the University of Oxford’ document, at www.ox.ac.uk/about/jobs/supportandtechnical/.

If you would like to apply, click on the Apply Now button on the ‘Job Details’ page and follow the on-screen instructions to register as a new user or log-in if you have applied previously. Please provide details of two referees and indicate whether we can contact them now.

You will also be asked to upload a CV and a supporting statement. The supporting statement must explain how you meet each of the selection criteria for the post using examples of your skills and experience. This may include experience gained in employment, education, or during career breaks (such as time out to care for dependants).

Your application will be judged solely on the basis of how you demonstrate that you meet the selection criteria stated in the job description.

Please upload all documents as PDF files with your name and the document type in the filename. (Customise this statement to confirm the document(s) you would like the applicant to attach, but make sure that you keep the reference to PDF. See section 1.4 of QRG REC01 Creating a Vacancy (Recruitment and Personnel) for guidance on selecting the appropriate application form).

All applications must be received by midday on the closing date stated in the online advertisement.

Information for priority candidates

A priority candidate is a University employee who is seeking redeployment because they have been advised that they are at risk of redundancy, or on grounds of ill-health/disability. Priority candidates are issued with a redeployment letter by their employing departments.

If you are a priority candidate, please ensure that you attach your redeployment letter to your application (or email it to the contact address on the advert if the application form used for the vacancy does not allow attachments).

Should you experience any difficulties using the online application system, please email recruitment.support@admin.ox.ac.uk. Further help and support is available from www.ox.ac.uk/about_the_university/jobs/support/. To return to the online application at any stage, please go to: www.recruit.ox.ac.uk.

Please note that you will be notified of the progress of your application by automatic emails from our e-recruitment system. Please check your spam/junk mail regularly to ensure that you receive all emails.

Important information for candidates

Pre-employment screening
Please note that the appointment of the successful candidate will be subject to standard pre-employment screening, as applicable to the post. This will include right-to-work, proof of identity and references. We advise all applicants to read the candidate notes on the University’s pre-employment screening procedures, found at: www.ox.ac.uk/about/jobs/preemploymentscreening/.

Data Privacy

Please note that any personal data submitted to the University as part of the job application process will be processed in accordance with the GDPR and related UK data protection legislation. For further information, please see the University’s Privacy Notice for Job Applicants at: www.admin.ox.ac.uk/councilsec/compliance/gdpr/privacynotices/job/. The University’s Policy on Data Protection is available at: www.admin.ox.ac.uk/councilsec/compliance/gdpr/universitypolicyondataprotection/.

The University’s policy on retirement

The University operates an Employer Justified Retirement Age (EJRA) for all academic posts and some academic-related posts. From 1 October 2017, the University has adopted an EJRA of 30 September before the 69th birthday for all academic and academic-related staff in posts at grade 8 and above. The justification for this is explained at: www.admin.ox.ac.uk/personnel/end/retirement/acrelretire8/+.

For existing employees, any employment beyond the retirement age is subject to approval through the procedures: www.admin.ox.ac.uk/personnel/end/retirement/acrelretire8/+.

There is no normal or fixed age at which staff in posts at grades 1–7 have to retire. Staff at these grades may elect to retire in accordance with the rules of the applicable pension scheme, as may be amended from time to time.

Equality of Opportunity

Entry into employment with the University and progression within employment will be determined only by personal merit and the application of criteria which are related to the duties of each particular post and the relevant salary structure. In all cases, ability to perform the job will be the primary consideration. No applicant or member of staff shall be discriminated against because of age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage or civil partnership, pregnancy or maternity, race, religion or belief, sex, or sexual orientation.
